WRANGEL'S ARMY IS ANNIHILATED BY THE RUSSIANS

Purpose of the Menace to the Soviet Was Just Opposite the Effect

FRENCH ARE PEEVED

Sebastopol is Evacuated As Red Cavalry Swoops Down From North

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The annihilation of General Wrangel's anti-Bolshevik army in southern Russia will strengthen the Soviet government at Moscow in the opinion of the Daily Express. Commenting today upon collapse of Wrangel's anti-Red military adventure this newspaper said:

"The French may well be disappointed and perhaps a little ashamed that they, as well as the other allies, have wasted lives and money with the only result that the Bolshevik hold on Russia has been made more secure."

Gen. Wrangel's army has been virtually wiped out, said a dispatch to the Daily Express from Constantinople dated Sunday.

"A host of Red cavalry is sweeping down upon Sebastopol. Already they are in the outskirts of the city."

Gen. Barbovitch with a handful of devoted followers from Gen. Wrangel's forces are fighting valiantly in the suburbs of Sebastopol, trying to hold back the Reds until the last of the refugees are on ship board. Gen. Wrangel, his hope of victory, blasted, worked calmly through Sunday directing the evacuation of Sebastopol by his troops."

STANDEN FAMILY IN AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR CLEVELAND

Mrs. Emma Lawrence Sustains Broken Fingers and Bruises About Head

Mrs. Emma Lawrence, Coshocton sustained a broken thumb and forefinger on her left hand and bruises about the head Friday evening, when the Nash car in which she was riding with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Standen and their daughter, Josephine, was struck by another automobile and skidded to the edge of a ditch ten miles this side of Cleveland.

Mrs. Lawrence, who was in the rear seat, was thrown part way through the door of the car. The other occupants escaped injury. Mrs. Lawrence, who was bleeding about the head and hand, was taken to a nearby house until the car was gotten back on the road and she was then taken in the car to Cleveland where a physician attended her injuries. She was able to return to Coshocton Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Standen remained in Cleveland to have the car repaired. They are expected home Monday night or Tuesday.

Mr. Standen was driving into Cleveland when another large car was turning in the road just ahead. Standen slowed down his car and swerved to the right, thinking he would have room to pass, but the other car backed into the Nash and it skidded to the edge of the ditch turning partly over on its side. A mail-box post saved the car from turning partially over on its side. The front axle of the Nash car was twisted, the fender broken and the spokes of the wheel badly bent.

The car is the one which was awarded to Mr. Standen during the Elks Fourth of July celebration a year ago last summer.

Mother Asks For Daughter's Custody

Clara Emmer Shepler has filed a motion in probate court, asking for a modification of the decree in the divorce case of Clara Emmer against John Emmer and that she be awarded the custody of her thirteen-year-old daughter, Margaret, who, the plaintiff says, shows evidence of requiring the care and attention of her mother.

When the plaintiff was granted the divorce, the custody of the children was awarded to the father. Mrs. Shepler says she now has a home of her own and could give the children better care than they are now receiving. Merrell, Shepler & Burklew are her attorneys.

Hunters Launch An Offensive Early Today

The woods and open fields are full of 'em. Full of what? Cotton tails.

Local nimrods who donned their hunting garments Monday morning preparing to make the first drive on rabbit-land were rejoicing over the report that there were oodles of cotton tails this year.

SAYS WIFE TELLS HIM SHE WILL DO AS SHE PLEASURES

Charging his wife with adultery and alleging that she tells him he is not smart enough to catch her and that she will do as she pleases, John W. Miller has commenced suit in probate court against Dortha Miller, asking for divorce and custody of their two children.

The plaintiff and defendant were married February 15, 1916. Miller alleges that his wife committed adultery with a man named Tidball at Layland, Ohio, about October 25, 1920. He also charges her with extreme cruelty, alleging that she curses, abuses and mistreats him and the children and tells him she cares more for other persons than for him. Merrell, Shepler & Burklew are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Quarter of Million Rabbit Hunters Hit the Buckeye Briars

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15.—That 200,000 licensed Ohio hunters and 50,000 farmers are legally operating without licenses, are hunting rabbits today is the estimate by A. C. Baxter, chief of the state fish and game department.

The rabbit and pheasant season which opened today, will continue until January 1.

It is said by Baxter that 250,000 licenses will have been issued before the season ends. Similar licenses last year totalled 235,000. Chief Baxter says there is abundance of rabbits in nearly every county of the state.

AGED NEWCOMERS MAN UNCONSCIOUS FROM FALL THURS.

The condition of Isaac Stoffer, who resides near Newcomertown and who is confined to the City hospital suffering from a fractured skull was reported unimproved Monday. He was still unconscious.

Owing to the advanced age of Mr. Stoffer, little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

He was injured in a fall down stairs at his home Thursday morning.

USED INDECENT LANGUAGE OVER PHONE; IS FINED

NEWCOMERTOWN, Nov. 15.—A charge of uttering indecent language over the telephone at Miss Lucille Johns, operator at the local exchange of the Tuscarawas Telephone Company, cost Clarence Shafer, 21, a fine of $25 and costs. The sentence was imposed by Mayor J. C. Ross.

Shafer, it is charged, called the operator a vile name when he could not talk to his mother on a rural line. Miss Johns was unable to raise his mother by telephone, peering Shafer.

First Snowfall Brings Gladness Monday Morning

Flocks of snow, the first of the season, filtered thru the air Monday morning as Coshocton citizens wended their way to work. Snowfall has been reported in several Ohio cities during the past few weeks and once or twice tiny dots of white have been seen in Coshocton but nothing approaching a real snowfall was discernible here until Monday. While it was accompanied by a rise in temperature it was taken as a real indication of the advent of King Winter and recalled the opening lines of Whit-tlor's famous poem: "It snows, cries the schoolboy!"

The fall of snow came as an appropriate opening of the rabbit and pheasant season and, after several weeks of mild autumnal weather, was especially welcomed by local merchants as it is bound to stimulate buying of winter apparel and Christmas gifts.

LAST REHEARSAL OF PAGEANT AT THEATER TONIGHT

Miss Nell Brinkman, who is in Coshocton to produce "The Wishing Ring" under the auspices of the City Federation, will supervise the last rehearsal of The Red Cross of Peace this evening at 7:30 at the Sixth St. Theatre; all members of the cast, as well as the orchestra and quartet, are asked to be present promptly on time.

The Pageant will be given Tuesday evening; it is being used in a majority of the Lake Division counties just now, not as a finished dramatic performance, but merely that the various communities may see the different aspects of the Peace Time program. It will be preceded here by a "community shyn."

It should be kept in mind that there is no admission charged nor solicitation of members. The doors will open at 7:30 and the only persons for whom seats will be reserved are the members of the teams who are making the house to house canvass.

The canvass for members began today. It is being carried on all over the county by an organization of about 200 women and will be finished this week.

M. P. CHURCH HAS GREAT DAY SUNDAY

Unusual interest was displayed in the evangelistic services at the Methodist Protestant church, corner of Eighth and Walnut streets on Sunday. The Sunday school was larger than usual and the morning hour of worship was filled with spiritual power, says the pastor.

The message was upon "Fire." He drew the inference that one of the most powerful and mysterious things in the world was used in the Bible to represent the presence of God; that the fire of God's presence is needed to take the gross out of human lives and from the moral fabric of the nation; that this fire of God's spirit is the only power that can bring to the church and the nation the revival so much needed today.

The Booster Boys' and Girls' choir which is creating such interest was well represented, and a good lesson was given by Evangelistic Singer Nyburg. A cottage prayer service was held in the interest of the meeting at the same time of the Booster service. The evening service was enjoyed by a capacity house, "greatly blessed of God" the pastor says. His subject was: "A Voice From Another World." Mr. Nyburg sang at the close of the service: "What Will You Do With Jesus?"

A kind reception was given the pastor and the evangelist, Mr. Nyburg, at the high school chapel services Monday morning. The pastor talked and the singer sang two beautiful solos. Services are announced for each evening at 7:30.

Birth Note

The son born to Mr. and Mrs. John Elder, north Eighth-st., Monday afternoon has been named John Jerome.

GENEVA, Nov. 15.—Despite non-participation by the United States the delegates to the first meeting of the league of nations today showed their readiness to take up at once the world's problems of the future. The future potency of the league may hinge on the outcome of the present meeting.

Standing before a cheap wooden desk with a background of potted palms, Foreign Minister Paul Hymans, of Belgium, rapped for order shortly after 11:00 o'clock and the meeting was under way.

Paul Hymans, Belgian foreign minister, was chosen president of the session. The vote was Hymans 35, President Motta, of Switzerland, 5; Leon Bourgeois, of France, 1.

The delegates applauded when President Motta expressed the hope that the United States would soon fill her vacant seat.

Roll call at 11:15 o'clock showed all the delegates present but those representing Honduras and Liberia.

"The hopes of millions of peoples of all nations are upon us as we begin our labors here today," said M. Hymans.

"The end of history's greatest conflict has left the world exhausted and full of doubts and fears. We commence a new world-era in which men hope to settle sanely and in all reasonableness their differences and to end armed quarrels."

Most of the delegates of the 41 nations represented were in their seats an hour or so before the meeting was called to order. They occupied plain, wooden benches like those of an American school room.

The meeting room is a great barn-like structure with seats set aside for spectators for the press. It was filled to overflowing long before the historic session opened.

The Swiss delegation welcomed the body by a speech. The meeting of council of the league of nations on Sunday lasted barely an hour when a committee examined the credentials of delegates.

Following luncheon, when the delegates were guests of the Swiss federal council, the league of nations council heard the reading of the order of the day for the assembly meeting.

The delegates were seated in alphabetical order and a place was reserved for the Americans despite the fact that the United States is not a member of the league.

If the United States were represented the American delegates would occupy the seats located between Spain and France. A murmur of disapproval arose on Sunday when it was announced that Lord Robert Cecil would represent South Africa instead of General J. C. Smuts. Some of the Scandinavian delegates informally suggested that an amendment be adopted preventing delegates from sitting in the future unless they are bonafide residents of the countries they represent.

The small Central American states opposed this, most of them plan to be represented at future sessions by proxies on account of the heavy expense of sending and maintaining delegates in Geneva. It was not regarded likely however, that any serious trouble would result from this issue.

The controversy which was threatened over efforts to secure Germany's admission seems to have been averted. France threatened to withdraw her delegates if an effort were made to take Germany into the league, but advice from Berlin quote the German foreign office as saying that Germany does not seek admission at this time.

Both Austria and Bulgaria, two former allies of the German Empire may be admitted.

The Japanese delegates have been active here for a week and unless persuaded otherwise by powerful friends, probably will press their resolution for racial equality.

THE PAY OF CONGRESSMEN

Congress consists at present of 531 members, 435 representatives, and 96 senators. Now that another census has been completed it becomes the duty of congress, under the constitution, to make a new apportionment of representatives among the several states.

If the ratio fixed after the 1910 census, one representative to every 211,000 inhabitants, is maintained there will be a material increase in the number of the lower branch of congress, Ohio being allotted at least two more and perhaps four. It would give the sixty-eighth congress well over 500 members—and for twenty years experienced representatives and newspaper correspondents have been a unit in the observation that the lower branch is an extremely unwieldy body.

Yet there is no probability that congress will busy itself with ways and means to remedy this admitted evil. Rather, there are indications that it will turn its attention to having the present salary of $7,500 raised to $10,000. We do not advance this statement as a theory or a guess, but base it on the word of congressmen themselves.

Recently J. M. Small, representative from a North Carolina district, the first, we believe, declared in a speech delivered in Buffalo that at the end of his present term he intended to retire from congress because the present pay is too small. He has been in the house for twenty-two consecutive years and he doubtless thinks this entitles him to speak with authority. He declares he cannot stay on the job any longer for the sole reason that the salary is inadequate. "I've got to get out and earn something," he said in the course of his speech.

All this by way of preamble, perhaps, to the report that the congressional salary is soon to be raised to $10,000 a year. Mr. Small says he hopes the bill goes thru, "for the Lord knows," he says, "that the boys in Washington need it." Notwithstanding this hope, it is the judgment of the gentleman from North Carolina that the "type of men now going to congress cannot earn $7,500 a year at home."

We must confess we are not able to place Mr. Small, nor do we believe there are five who read this who can place him. Yet he has spent eleven terms in the house, 22 years, almost a quarter of a century. In that substantial period of time he has managed to avoid notoriety, publicity, fame. He has had years of preferment in the public service, yet we know of no work that he has performed to distinguish him from the common herd, nothing to make Americans remember his congressional career after he has departed the public life. Why has he failed?

Perhaps his attitude on the money question affords the correct answer. He publicly approves of the rumored raise in congressional salary to $10,000 a year altho he admits that it is his judgment the present members could not hope, on the whole, to command salaries like that in private life where men generally are paid just about what they are worth.

Representative Small's idea seems to be that congressmen should be paid what they need, rather than on the basis of what they merit. If that is Mr. Small's notion of equity, and his remarks clearly justify such an inference, then the nation may contemplate his withdrawal from Washington without anxiety. It will also be interesting to his Carolina constituents and neighbors to observe how much more than $7,500 a year he will receive in a private capacity.

But to go back to our initial observation, the country is much more interested in cutting down the number of congressmen than it is in raising the wages of those now on the job. The membership of the senate, of course is fixed. For several years to come, at least, it will remain at 96. The admission of Alaska or the division of Texas, California or some other state would slightly increase the senate's membership, but unless the constitution is changed and we depart greatly from the present method of apportioning senators, the upper branch will never vary greatly from the one hundred mark.

The house, however, is different. In recent years the lower branch has suffered greatly in comparison with the upper. Steadily the senate has advanced as a legislative factor and in the same ratio the house has declined. Cannot the explanation be found just here? Has not the senate, a small, compact body, a tremendous advantage over the unwieldy house? Is it not vastly easier for a man of ability to rise to distinction in the senate than in the house? And if this is true will not a house of more than 500 members suffer still more in comparison.

Would not Ohio, for instance, be just as well—better—represented in the national legislative councils with ten or a dozen men of real ability than she has been of late years with 22 and, as probably will be the case, with 24 or 25 representatives? What does New York gain with 43 members in her congressional delegation? Would not 15 men serve the Empire State just as well? Would not the public gain in the long run and would not the house of representatives grow immeasurably in public estimation if its membership, instead of being increased to considerably more than 500, were cut to, say, 250?

If congress would face honestly the problem that the people are concerned about, that of raising the standards of congressional efficiency, instead of feasting its imagination on the pleasing prospect of getting a salary increase of 33 1-3 percent, it might by so doing stand even a better show of securing an increase in pay. Not more representatives but fewer would better serve the ends of legislation and the public welfare.

As to the proposed salary of $10,000 a year, we believe there are still quite a few patriots sticking around in the hill tops and the back districts who could be induced to spend a few terms in Washington at $7,500 per cent and mileage.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

IS GRATEFUL TO THE PEOPLE

Editor The Tribune:

The endorsement I received by the electors of Licking county was most gratifying. Mr. Ashbrook carried this county by 2000 majority in 1916. I carried it this election by 927 and ran 255 ahead of Harding in Newark. In view of the fact that we both live in Licking-co and I carried it by such a substantial majority I am naturally very much gratified with result of the election, which evidences the confidence of the citizens of this county.

Another feature of the election that I am distinctly proud of is that the precinct in which I live is Democratic and I received about 70 per cent. of the vote, and further, that the precinct in which I formerly resided is about equally divided and I received about 75 per cent. of the vote of it.

Licking county is normally about 1000 Democratic. You will note that I received over 1800 Democratic votes. I shall appreciate it if you will give publicity to the great endorsement I received by the citizens of my home county.

I also sincerely wish to express thanks to my friends of the entire 17th district for their support. I have been elected by the rank and file of the people without regard to party affiliation. By their votes they have manifested confidence in my ability to represent them. Because of the grave problems I have been elected to help solve I feel deeply the responsibility resting upon me. While I am gratified with the result I accept the people's expression with a deep sense of duty.

I want to thank the press of the district for its treatment of my candidacy.

With a deep spirit of gratitude to those splendid men and women who have elected me, I am

Gratefully and sincerely,
 W. H. MORGAN.

SOME ELECTION

Editor The Tribune:

November 2nd, 1920 will go down in history as Ship of State cleaning day. Men and women, black and white, rich and poor, of all callings and vocations, from Maine to California and from the Lakes to the Gulf, left their homes on the above mentioned day, sought and found the ballot box in which each and all, untrammelled and unfettered, deposited his will.

The result was marvelous. The old Ship of State was swept from top to bottom of the accumulated rubbish of eight long years, as it was never swept before in the past hundred and forty years.

Perhaps a few men were swept overboard that should have been saved, and a few were saved that should have gone overboard. At any rate, it was a pretty clean job of sweeping and whether it does or does not suit us all, we all submit to the verdict just the same.

What little dust may gather on deck between now and the 4th of March can soon be brushed aside and then it will be the duty of President Harding to guard the old ship for four long years. While the deck is clean, it is no sign that the voyage will all be sunshine, but tempestuous storms are sure to come. Then it behooves him to gather around him the cream of American statesmanship as counselors.

Old things have passed away and all things have become new, and as they start on their new journey, the hearts of the people are filled with wonder and ask the question, what will they tackle first? We ask, should it not be a Declaration of Universal Peace with all Nations of Earth? Peace with all the Nations of the world looks and sounds good. Not a dissenting voice is heard. Then what?

Some kind of an understanding between all nations, call it what you may League, Covenant, Association, or an Agreement between and for all concerned, to help protect, love and preserve all nations to the boundary lines of consistency, at the same time maintaining our constitution, our flag, and freedom to act when the time for action comes, being careful at all times that the lassos of European Powers never encircle our Constitution.

Now, with this outside work done, the eyes of the passengers of the old Ship of State should be turned to the wants of home. Why should not a sliding embargo on the exportation of coal be a pretty good move until the American bins are well filled? Then letting charity be manifested at home first, a tariff on wheat might help the American farmer and when he is helped, all are helped. Yes, and a little protection on wool would do no harm, for I am not sure that some of our boys at Washington want down in the landslide from the fact that they voted to put wool on the free list with a fifteen per cent duty on manufactured goods. Wool producers are not going to stand for that kind of lopsided class legislation.

Another fact I wish to mention would help both at home and abroad. If it could be accomplished within the next twelve months or sooner, and that is, if the government, the banks, or individuals, could lend some of these derelict European nations twelve or fifteen billion dollars to purchase from us what we could spare and what they need it would be quite a blessing, both at home and also over the seas.

Don't forget, as the old ship glides along, to keep a watchful eye on the old dragon head and cloven tongue of Bolshevism, for he is crawling around in the grass where and when you least think of him, and altho an association of nations may be consummated, don't think for a moment that it will change man's or nation's nature. CHILDLESS WOMEN

Please Read This Letter And See What Normal Health Will Do For You.

Lancaster, Pa.—"I was weak and run down, had pains in my head, back and stomach all the time, and bearing down pains. I had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me, so my mother got me to try it again, and I am now feeling better than I have for years. We were married sixteen years and had no children, but now we have a fine big boy and we always call him our 'Pinkham' boy. The doctor was afraid of my case as I was 41 years old when the boy was born, but I came through all right. You can use this as a testimonial if you wish and I will certainly write to any one who writes to me about it."

—Mrs. MARGARET C. HAYES, 528 Howard Avenue, Lancaster, Pa.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

It will be well to create and maintain a reasonable army and navy.

There are a great many people who talk against concealed weapons and yet they like to carry them. I don't believe it is well for federal or state law-makers to spend too much time listening to farmers' representatives, to the representatives of manufacturers, to bankers, to Wall-st, and to those who may represent labor unions, and so on. What the people want is trust, statesmanship, high, deep, broad and wise enough to cover and do justice to all callings, cutting out class legislation and giving to all the people a square deal. Reasonable and just laws should be put on the statute books of both state and nation. Then the transgression of such laws should be punished by severe penalty.

Any free man should be at liberty to serve, to work at will, but he should be considered a transgressor who interferes with the other fellow who wants to work.

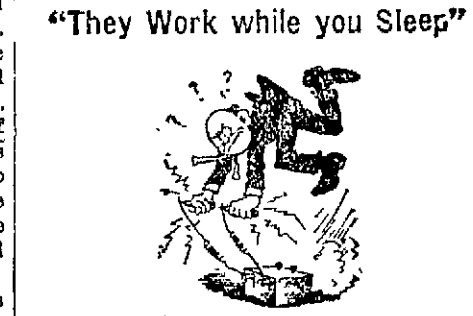

The exit of the United States should stand ajar twenty-four hours each day and three hundred and sixty-five days, each year and all who become dissatisfied with Uncle Sam should be allowed to seek congenial quarters elsewhere.

When the war is over and peace is finally declared, all unnecessary government employees should be discharged forthwith to the end that governmental expenses might be curtailed to normal. A great wrong is often done in the appointment of boards and commissions of arbitration. It often occurs that one-sided men are appointed to settle two-sided questions.

Thus, I have mentioned a few of the many, many subjects that will loom up before President-elect Harding when he and his helpers and advisers step upon the deck of the old ship and start out on a four year voyage of reconstruction. May honesty, wisdom, love, statesmanship and a fair and square deal for all characterize their every effort in the work of reconstruction.

To Overcome Anaemic Conditions
Which Are Much More Common Than Formerly

Anaemic conditions are much more common than generally supposed. If your blood is poor, thin, de-vitalized you are a target for disease. Why not therefore, benefit by the experience of so many people in this city who have been restored to health, by Vinol, the cod liver and iron strength-creator, blood and body-builder.

Vinol is not a patent medicine as all its ingredients are named on every package and it contains just the elements needed to enrich the blood enabling it to carry strength and vitality to every part of the body. Your druggist sells it, and will refund your money if it fails to benefit you.

FOURTEEN POUNDS OF BLOOD

Every healthy adult should have a definite quantity of rich, red blood coursing through their veins

PEPTO-MANGAN MAKES RED BLOOD

Builds up men and women who lack energy

A healthy, full-grown person has in the neighborhood of fourteen pounds of blood in his or her body. The weight of the blood varies with different people, but it should not vary with the individual.

For instance, if the normal weight of your blood is twelve pounds, and it falls off a pound in weight, it is one of the most precious pounds in the world and should be immediately regained.

To turn weak, watery blood into live, red, health-building blood, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Gude's is the trade mark of Bayer manufacture of Monocetacalcidester of Salicylicacid.

HAD TO UNBUTTON CLOTHES TO RELIEVE GAS PRESSURE

Bloated up fearfully, gas pressed against his heart and he almost choked. Almost unconscious from these attacks on two occasions, Decco relieved him.

Mr. J. O. Humston, the popular and well known motorman on the White Line of the Dayton Street Ry. Co., in a statement, recently said: "Decco is very popular among the conductors and motormen for I often hear them speak of it. My troubles always come right after meals and especially after supper. I would bloat fearfully and have to unbutton my clothes to get any relief. The gas would get so bad it would press my heart, choke me unconscious. I got pretty scared for my heart felt funny."

"I got where I was afraid to eat a good sized meal and almost starved myself so that I got weak and nervous and had to lay off from work

"IT BUILT ME UP FIVE YEARS AGO"

Stomach Trouble Gone and Has Gained Twenty Pounds Since Taking Tan-lac, Says Crouse

Although it has been five years now since Harry Crouse, 387 North Fourth street, Columbus, Ohio, foreman for the Timken Auto Bearing Company, realized the remarkable reconstructive powers of Tanlac, like thousands of others who have used it with the same wonderful results, he still finds pleasure in telling the people about it. A few days ago, while relating his experience with the medicine Mr. Crouse said:

"Yes, sir, it was five years ago that Tanlac put an end to a bad case of stomach trouble for me, and not only that, but it put me into shape where I gained twenty pounds in just a few weeks' time."

"At the time I began taking Tanlac and even for years before, I had been in an awful run-down condition, suffering from indigestion in its worst form. My stomach was sour all the time and I had reached the point where I dreaded for meal time to come for nearly every bite I ate meant trouble for me. Right after eating anything I felt full and weak and my heart would palpitate terribly. I was awful nervous and felt bilious and nauseated most of the time. I lost a good deal of weight and was as drowsy and out of sorts I was hardly able to stay at my work."

"As soon as I started taking Tanlac I knew I had at last found the medicine I needed for the indigestion began to leave me and I commenced to pick up weight. I kept on improving until I had gained back all my lost weight and was feeling as fine as ever did in my life. I could eat anything I wanted without any trouble, was not nervous or bilious and, in fact, was a perfectly well man. That was five years ago and I have been enjoying the very best of health ever since until a short time ago I began to feel weak and run-down. I knew how Tanlac had fixed me up before, so I got another bottle and am now back in fine shape again. Several of my friends have started taking Tanlac and they all are praising it too."

Tanlac is sold in Coshocton by Siegrist & Williams and in Warsaw by J. D. Lawson.

SHE WAS OLDEST VOTER IN WEST VIRGINIA TOWN

Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips, aged 87, for more than a half century a resident of Coshocton was the oldest voter to cast her ballot in the little town of Warwood, a suburb of Wheeling, W. Va., November 2, according to a clipping from a Wheeling paper.

Mrs. Phillips is the mother of William and Charles Phillips of Coshocton, and moved away from 215 north Third-st. eleven years ago following the death of her husband, to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. G. M. Gaumer at Warwood.

Following is the clipping from the West Virginia paper:

Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips was the oldest resident who cast a vote in Warwood Tuesday. The aged lady was taken to the polling place in a closed car. After marking her ticket she remarked to a friend, "That was easy; I had no trouble at all." She said that her sons in Ohio had written that mother must cast her first vote without fail for Cox and Roosevelt and that she was glad to have the opportunity of doing so. Mrs. Phillips has remarkable vitality and mentality for a woman of her age."

Senreco
The double-service
tooth paste,
keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your drugstore or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste.

STOP ITCHING SKIN

Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Gives Prompt Relief

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of Zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

Zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.

In skin troubles, ordinary soaps are irritating and liable to aggravate the condition. Use Zemo soap. It is antiseptic, soothing, and hastens the process of healing.

The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

Eruptions of the Skin Cause Torturous Itching

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disorder, you are well acquainted with the flaming, burning itching that these diseases produce.

Skin diseases are caused by an impurity or disorder in the blood, and there is no real and genuine relief until this year reach until such impurities are removed.

S.S.S. has given great satisfaction in the treatment of these diseases.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION
Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have
Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

particularly the project which has the support of the American Bankers' Association. Although there has been a further decline in exchange, which established new low levels in some of the principal European currencies, this is not out of line with what has been foreseen as unavoidable for a good while past, owing to the large accumulation of balances carried on the books of foreign houses and banks. A further movement of gold into the United States this time from Russia, via Sweden, has been a feature of the week's developments.

Railway Earnings and Prospects
Further announcement of railway earnings during the week has confirmed the opinion, based on early reports, that the new schedule of rates established by the interstate commerce Commission was likely to prove adequate to the requirements, and that in the case of the well managed lines at least it would be sufficient to take care of the changes regularly to be met by the companies. For this reason, in spite of the difficulties on the stock market, railroad shares have in many cases shown a continued ability to maintain themselves. Notable examples are afforded by Southern Pacific and Reading and one or two other lines in which new financing plans have furnished a basis of confidence in future value. The proposed Southern Pacific distribution has naturally called attention to other stocks which, voluntarily or involuntarily, are on the eve of making distributions, and has also created many rumors, some of which no doubt are without foundation, that stockholders of other companies may have something in store for them. Better conditions also exist in public utilities in those cases where a reasonable basis of earning has been allowed to be established. In others, as in the case of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system, whose operating results were made public during the past week, deficits are clearly due to an unfairly low schedule of charges, but there is manifest throughout the country a decided change in the attitude of the public on this question of rates, while the falling prices of materials and equipment should assist very materially in bringing about more economical conditions of operation.

Market Review and Outlook
A moderate volume of business and shrinkage of values have been characteristic of the situation during the past week. So long as talk of trade inflation is extensively indulged in the selling of industrial stocks will continue. There has been an extensive deflationary movement in the steel, automobile and other shares, so that even admitting that trade generally is to receive a further setback it must likewise be conceded that the market is discounting this prospect. However until the buying demand increases for the industrials, it is not at all unlikely that they will drift lower. This prospect, as already observed, does not apply as fully to the shares of railroad companies, which for the most part are closely held by people who believe that on their merits they are worth holding for better things. The fact that the rails hold up so well, considering the weakness of the industrials speaks for itself.

Financial Letter

NEW YORK, Nov. 15—Premier Lloyd George's statement that conditions are gradually righting themselves throughout the world and that continued improvement may reasonably be looked for is at once the most hopeful and in many ways the sanest expression of opinion about international affairs that has been uttered for a good while. The meeting at Geneva, set for November 15, at which time representatives of the allied nations will consider practical economic questions relating to German conditions and the German indemnity, bids fair to result in some announcements that may exert a beneficial influence upon international trade and foreign exchange.

Prices and Readjustment

Further declines of prices have taken place during the week which necessarily exert important influence upon securities values. The cutting of raw sugar to 6c a pound and very widespread alterations in other commodities have been the outstanding factors in this connection. A fall in spring wheat prices to less than $1.70 a bushel and in cotton quotations to below 15c a pound for late options indicate the character of the process thru which our industrial system has been passing and suggest that the process of readjustment is advancing toward completion in a good many important lines. Assuming that this is a fact it must be equally true that there has been actual progress toward recovery. A somewhat further increase in unemployment has been commented on in various quarters as indicating an advance toward depression and interviews from one or two financiers have suggested somewhat the same view. This does not seem to be altogether warranted by the facts thus far made known nor does it fairly apply to the investment outlook. Comparison of the current quotations with those which ruled one year ago shows that in many instances values have been quartered and halved. Conceding that former quotations were higher than conditions warranted, it would seem that their drastic marking down has gone a long way in righting the situation; still, while so much uncertainty exists regarding the future, it is hardly to be expected that the general public will have the courage to buy industrial stocks. It is natural also that holders of this class of stocks should be somewhat uneasy and, therefore, inclined to reduce their holdings.

Industrial Outlook

The industrial outlook is well illustrated by the conditions reflected in the report of the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation. This shows a decline of about 579,000 tons in unfilled orders and represents a fourth month of decline. There still remains, however, about 3,539,000 tons, or practically a nine months' period of full operation on the books of the concern. With respect to both steel and some allied lines of industry, there is still considerable adjustment to take place before it can be safely said that the situation is normal, but considering that the shares of these companies have been marked down to such an extent it is reasonable to assume that even the trade should further slacken during the next three or four months this has already been discounted to a considerable extent. In some other lines the outlook is not so fortunate and the result has been to establish part time schedules of work. This is particularly true in the leather and textile industries, in both of which readjustment in the field of retail prices is called for in order to restore buying demand on the part of consumers. Some of the largest concerns in all lines have, however, made ample provision in advance for the meeting of their obligations and for overcoming the setbacks involved in such a period as the present. They will, therefore, unquestionably be able to carry thru the period of readjustment without undue difficulty. The dropping of extra dividends by the American Sugar Refining Company and dividend changes in some other directions must be regarded as merely the gradual restoration of pre-war conditions.

Financial Situation

Financial conditions have held their own well. The reserve status in the federal reserve system shows an ample margin of liquidating power, while comparison of the discount situation as contrasted with former months indicates a progressive advance toward the elimination of slow or doubtful paper, notwithstanding that there has been no reduction of loans in the aggregate granted to the member banks. Throughout the country generally the capacity of the banks to take care of their customers is, in general, unquestionable, the principal problem being that of distributing and carrying the losses caused by paper shrinkages in inventory values. There has been a steady and encouraging growth in the investment demand evident in the market, and investment houses report that the attitude of the community foreign securities is decidedly better than at any time since the war. Progress has been made during the week toward the further development of export financing plans,

THE COUNTY FARMER

County Farm Bureau

The biggest thing that has come out of the county agent's work is the farm bureau which supports him and teaches farmers and their wives how to think out their own problems and for all to work together co-operatively. We regard the farm bureau as the most important practical development in rural life in this country in a hundred years. The farm bureau will not replace the Grange, the Farmers' Union, or like farmers' organizations; but will make available trained public, county, government, and state officials to co-operate with them in all their agricultural enterprises. The bureaus at present are tending to upbuild all local agricultural organizations, and this appears to be the normal influence in every case where they have been long enough established to function properly. The Grange, the Farmers' Union, and the Non-Partisan League are all supporting the farm bureau movement when they clearly understand its plan of work and that it provides for carrying out a plan which they themselves have proposed as best meeting their needs.

The essential reason for desiring a permanent public county organization is that the department and state colleges are public institutions and have permanent funds for carrying on extension work. The state is too large a unit from which to send out agents to aid farmers locally in the most helpful and intimate way. But with a public organization in every county with which government agencies may co-operate in employing an extension agent, the matter becomes simplified and by suborganization of the county it is possible to reach every single farmer that desires assistance.

Membership Campaigns

Membership campaigns are shortly to be conducted in Champaign, Ottawa, Morrow, Lorain, Stark, Fairfield, Lucas and Hocking counties with some 35 or 40 other counties on the list, with dates of campaigns to be determined. From counties that are completing their campaigns, reports show that the early ratios of increase in membership are being maintained.

The neighbor state of Michigan lays claim to more than 34,000 members, while the Illinois membership is above 102,000. Judging from the way the Ohio campaigns are going there will not be fewer than 125,000 $10 members in this state at the conclusion of all the campaigns. Successful state farm bureaus have recently been organized in Virginia, Texas and Florida. Other states are about to effect organization. In Wisconsin arrangements have been practically completed to affiliate the Equity Union with the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Farmers' Week

Partial arrangements have been made by representatives of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and the College of Agriculture of the Ohio State University for observance of the annual Farmers' Week at the university. It has been decided to give three days' time instead of two, to the farm matter. The Farmers' Week will open January 31 and continue through February 4. The Federations' meetings will be held February 1, 2 and 3.

Among those expected to be headliners on the Federations' program are J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; E. T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture of the United States; Gray Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation and former United States senator of West Virginia, Mrs. Ruby Green Smith of Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, state leader of home demonstration; O. E. Bradfute, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation; M. D. Lincoln, executive secretary of that organization and H. O. Ramsower of the agricultural extension department of made.

The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation has finally been able to establish permanent headquarters and has moved into the new building erected at High and Main-sts by the Franklin Savings and Loan Company. The entire fourth floor is occupied and arrangements for overflow on the fifth floor have been made.
